OWNED BY THE EARTH, BUILDING THE FUTURE

The ADLP Blueprint for Genuine Resource Partnerships

A Fireside Chat

PANELISTS

Gimaa Craig Nootchtai
Chief, Atikameksheng Anishnawbek

Chief Larry Roque
Wahnapitae First Nation

Mario Grossi
CEO
Technica Mining

Gianni Grossi
CEO
Anmar

MODERATORS

Tracy MacLeod
Alumni/Advancement
Laurentian University

Dr. Nadia Mykytczuk
Goodman School of Mines
Laurentian University

Thursday, October 8, 2026 | 7 p.m.

Fraser Building, Auditorium, Lower Level | Laurentian University

ADLP is a Sudbury-based joint venture between 2 First Nations (Atikmeksheng Anishnabek, and Wahnapitae First Nations), and 2 mining contractors (Technica and Anmar). The First Nations are majority owners of the JV, which is a rare model in the mining industry. This "true partnership" can showcase what it means to build meaningful and equitable partnerships between the mining industry, and indigenous land rights holders. The fireside chat will explore how this partnership came about, and what it means to each of the leaders about building a lasting business together and one that can improve how the mining industry works with First Nations on mining projects.

FREE ADMISSION. ALL ARE WELCOME.

LaurentianUniversity
UniversitéLaurentienne

GOODMAN School of Mines
École des mines

Canada's Mining University

Scan code to register!